

DigitWallet Privacy Policy

Last updated: January 15, 2025

This policy explains what the Client may expect from DigitWallet and what DigitWallet need from the Client in relation to personal data provided by the Client. Please read this carefully as this policy is legally binding when the Client uses DigitWallet Services. Unless the context otherwise requires, each capitalized term used but not defined herein shall have the meaning ascribed to it in the General Terms and Conditions.

If there shall be any questions about how DigitWallet protects or use the data, please contact support@digitwallethub.com.

1. How do we protect your personal information

1.1 We are serious about guarding the security of your personal information and use a secure server to store your personal information. All information you provide to us is stored on our secure servers.

1.2 We restrict access of your personal information to those employees of DigitWallet who have a business reason for knowing such information. We continuously educate and train our employees about the importance of confidentiality and privacy of customer information. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that comply with the relevant laws and regulations to protect your personal information from unauthorized access.

2. Information we may collect from you

2.1 Information you give us.

(a) You may give us information about you when you sign up to use our service, e.g. when you provide us with personal details, such as name, address, email address, ID number, and/or phone number of your executives, directors, employees, agents, or legal representative. This also includes information you provide through your continued use of DigitWallet Services, participate in discussion boards or other social media functions on our website or App, enter a competition, promotion or survey, and when you report a problem with DigitWallet Services. The information you give us may include the name, address, e-mail address, phone number, financial information (including credit card, debit card, or bank account information), payment reason, geographical location, ID number, social security number, personal description and photograph of your executives, directors, employees, agents, or legal representative.

(b) We may also need additional commercial and/or identification information from you e.g. if you send or receive certain high-value or high-volume transactions or as needed to comply with our anti-money laundering obligations under applicable law.

(c) In providing the personal data of any individual by you to us during your use of DigitWallet Services, you promise that you have obtained consent from such individual to disclose his/her personal data to us, as well his/her consent to our collection, use and disclosure of such personal data, for the purposes set out in this Privacy Policy.

2.2 Information we collect about you.

With regard to your use of DigitWallet Services we may automatically collect the following information:

- (a) details of the transactions you carry out when using DigitWallet Services, including geographic location from which the transaction originates.
- (b) technical information, including the Internet protocol (IP) address used to connect your computer to the Internet, your login information, browser type and version, time zone setting, browser plug-in types and versions, operating system and platform.
- (c) information about your visit, including the full Uniform Resource Locators (URL) clickstream to, through and from our Website or App (including date and time); products you viewed or searched for; page response times, download errors, length of visits to certain pages, page interaction information (such as scrolling, clicks, and mouse-overs), and methods used to browse away from the page and any phone number used to call our Customer Support number.

2.3 Information we receive from other sources.

We may receive information about you if you use any of the other websites we operate or the other services we provide. We are also working closely with third parties and may receive information about you from them.

3. Cookies

3.1 DigitWallet uses cookies to distinguish you from other users. This helps us to provide you with a good experience and also allows us to improve our services.

3.2 DigitWallet also uses the following types of cookies:

Analytical and performance cookies These allow us to recognize and count the number of visitors to our website, and see how visitors browse around our website, so we can improve it where necessary.

Targeting cookies These allow us to see what pages and links you have visited so we can provide more relevant ads. We may share this information with other organizations for the same purpose.

Google Analytics cookies These identify and analyses website trends, but do not identify you individually.

These cookies are all "session cookies", which means that they will end when you close your website browser.

4. Uses made of the information

We use your information in the following ways:

- (a) to carry out our obligations relating to your contract with us and to provide you with the information, products and services.
- (b) to comply with any applicable legal and/or regulatory requirements.
- (c) to notify you about changes to DigitWallet Services.
- (d) as part of our efforts to keep DigitWallet Services safe and secure.
- (e) to administer DigitWallet Services and for internal operations, including troubleshooting, data analysis, testing, research, statistical and survey purposes.
- (f) to improve DigitWallet Services and to ensure that they are presented in the most effective manner.
- (g) to measure or understand the effectiveness of advertising we serve and to deliver relevant advertising to you.

- (h) to allow you to participate in interactive features of DigitWallet Services, when you choose to do so.
- (i) to provide you with information about other similar goods and services we offer.
- (j) to provide you, or permit selected third parties to provide you, with information about goods or services we feel may interest you; or
- (k) to combine information, we receive from other sources with the information you give to us and information we collect about you.

We may use this information and the combined information for the purposes set out above (depending on the types of information we receive).

5. Disclosure of your information

5.1 We may share your information with selected third parties including:

- (a) affiliates, business partners, suppliers and sub-contractors for the performance and execution of any contract we enter into with them or you.
- (b) advertisers and advertising networks solely to select and serve relevant adverts to you and others; and
- (c) analytics and search engine providers that assist us in the improvement and optimization of our site; and
- (d) our group entities or subsidiaries - which can be found by clicking here.

5.2 We may disclose your personal information to third parties:

- (a) in the event that we sell or buy any business or assets, in which case we may disclose your personal data to the prospective seller or buyer of such business or assets.
- (b) if we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation, or in order to enforce or apply our Customer Agreement and other applicable agreements; or to protect the rights, property, or safety of DigitWallet, our customers, or others. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organizations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction.
- (c) to assist us in conducting or co-operating in investigations of fraud or other illegal activity where we believe it is reasonable and appropriate to do so.
- (d) to prevent and detect fraud or crime.
- (e) in response to a subpoena, warrant, court order, or as otherwise required by law.
- (f) to assess financial and insurance risks.
- (g) to recover debt or in relation to your insolvency; and
- (h) to develop customer relationships, services and systems.

6. Where we store your personal data

6.1 The data that we collect from you shall be stored within the territory of the United States. It may be processed by staff operating outside the U.S. who work for us or for one of our suppliers. Such staff maybe engaged in, among other things, the fulfilment of your payment order, the processing of your payment details and the provision of support services. By submitting your personal data, you agree to this transfer, storing or processing. We will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this privacy policy.

7. Sharing your data outside of the U.S.

7.1 In order to provide DigitWallet Services to you, it is sometimes necessary for us to transfer your data to the third parties located in the countries that have the same data privacy standard as the U.S, such as Singapore or EU. In these cases, we ensure that both ourselves and our partners take adequate and appropriate technical, physical and organizational security measures to protect your data. We also ensure we have appropriate contractual protections in place with these third parties.

8. Profiling and Automated Decision Making

8.1 We may use some instances of your data in order to customize DigitWallet Services and the information we provide to you, and to address your needs - such as your country of address and transaction history. For example, if you frequently send funds from one particular currency to another, we may use this information to inform you of new product updates or features that may be useful for you. When we do this, we take all necessary measures to ensure that your privacy and security are protected - and we only use pseudonymized data wherever possible. This activity has no legal effect on you.

9. Data Retention

9.1 As a regulated financial institution, DigitWallet is required by law to store some of your personal and transaction data beyond the closure of your account with us. Your data is only accessed internally on a need-to-know basis, and it will only be accessed or processed if absolutely necessary.

9.2 We will always delete data that is no longer required by a relevant law or jurisdiction in which we operate.

9.3 Retention periods defined for the storage of your data is five years.

10. Your Rights

10.1 You have the right to ask us not to contact you for marketing purposes by contacting us via the customer manager appointed by DigitWallet as shown on the Dashboard or at support@digitwallethub.com.

10.2 You have the right to correct any personal information We hold on you that is inaccurate, incorrect, or out of date.

10.3 You have the right to ask us to delete your data when it is no longer necessary, or no longer subject to a legal obligation to which DigitWallet is subject to.

10.4 You have the right to transfer your personal data between data controllers, for example, to move your account details from one online platform to another.

10.5 DigitWallet may, from time to time, contain links to and from the websites of our partner networks, advertisers, and affiliates. If you follow a link to any of these websites, please note that these websites have their own privacy policies and that we do not accept any responsibility for them. Please check these policies before you submit any personal data to these websites.

11. Access to Information

11.1 Subject to applicable laws, you may have the right to access information we held about you. Your right of access can be exercised in accordance with the relevant data protection legislation.

12. Changes to this Policy

12.1 Any changes we may make to our privacy policy will be posted on this page and, where appropriate, notified to you by e-mail. Please check back frequently to see any updates or changes to our privacy policy.